To Whom It May Concern:

It is our privilege to recommend The Projects Group for a renovation project (or any project) at River Crest Country Club. For approximately two years we worked closely with them on a complicated and complex project and without exception our issues, which at times proved to be technical and challenging, were always addressed in a professional and timely manner.

The Projects Group is both widely recognized and highly respected in our community as exceptional project managers and problem solvers. Our personal experience with the managers highlighted how outstanding employees embrace challenges as opportunities, which translated into positive and often extraordinary outcomes.

We are extremely grateful to The Projects Group for their loyalty and steadfast dedication. Their attention to detail produced "signature" results in our personal home. Commitment with an unwavering insistence on maintaining the integrity of the remediation process built immediate trust in their judgment and decision process. Should the opportunity occur, we would look forward to working with them again in the future.

Sincerely,

Mike Moncrief
